

September 7, 2006

Bosnia: War-Crimes Witness Found Dead

By Marlise Simons

Prosecutors at the war crimes tribunal in The Hague are seeking information about the apparent suicide of a crucial witness, Stevan Todorovic, 49, a former wartime police chief in Bosnia, who was found over the weekend at his home with a gunshot wound to his temple and a pistol in his hand. This is the second death of a top witness this year. Milan Babic, a former prime minister, hanged himself in his cell in The Hague in March. Both men were to testify at the trial of two former heads of the Serbian security service.

Copyright 2006
The New York Times Company